

It is strange how many of the visitors to Mentor go there just for fun. Almost every one of the prominent say their going there has no significance at all.

When Greek meets Greek then comes the tug of war, but when Greek meets Turk then comes the tug to keep out of war. The press is getting quite weary of reprinting daily the news that fighting will soon commence. Let us have peace or gore.

The other day Chicago philanthropists subscribed over $2,000 for starting a training school for nurses. It will be a grand satisfaction to many a small boy who has been trained by nurses, to know that the nurses are now to be trained. It's a long felt want though.

A New Jersey grand jury recommends the whipping post for wife-beaters. With divorcees at Indiana prices in several States, it does seem a waste of time for a man to try to live with a wife who has to be whipped into loving him. By all means set up the post, and let these men who know so little about divorcees suffer for their ignorance.

It's a little strange that among the scores of mind-readers and clairvoyants there is not one who can name with certainty those who are to constitute Garfield's cabinet. Some of these spiritualistic mediums can do wonders in their own cabinets, but when it comes to the President's cabinet they can only guess, like other poor mortals.

There's a convention of hotel proprietors from all parts of the country, in session in New York this week. Among the mysteries of the business, which they ought to solve, is how every guest can have a front room on the parlor floor; and how it is that metropolitan hotel clerks on a dollar a day and board can wear diamond sparklers as big as locomotive headlights.

To-day the National Woman's Suffrage Association opened its thirteenth annual convention in Washington. Susan B. says its object will be to influence Congress to give to woman "the same political rights as other citizens." All right. If they want to vote in time of peace, and be drafted in time of war, work out their poll tax, and take even chances with them in scrambling for a strap in the street, who will be so unkind as to say "any?"

The late John F. Armour, of Chicago, out of a fortune of $1,500,000, bequeathed $100,000 for the establishment of a mission church and school in a thickly populated district of the city, which needs Christianizing; and now the Socialists in their last Sunday's meeting pass resolutions condemning the charity, saying they deem it their duty to do so as "reformers." It is strange to what low depths that word "reform" has sunk since it began getting in bad company.

The Milwaukee Republican of Monday contained the following editorial note: "Our Madison dispatches reported, the other day, that Mr. Charles G. Williams had requested the members of the Rock county delegation in the Legislature, not to vote for him for senator. The special correspondent of this journal at Washington sends a telegram, which will be found in another column, that the report is untrue, and that Mr. Williams says he has made no communication to the Rock county members on the subject." This agrees with the statement of the Rock county delegation, all of whom say they have received no such letter from Mr. Williams.

The North American Review for February is the literary phenomenon of the month. First we have an earnest and patriotic article by General Grant, advocating the Nicaragua Canal project. The genial Autocrat of the Breakfast Table, Olive Wendell Holmes, follows with an essay entitled "The Pulpit and the Pew," written in the best spirit of the Christian philosopher, in which he endeavors to show the need that he believes to exist for a revision of the prevalent theological creeds. Under the quaint title of "Aaron's Rod in Politics," Judge A. W. Tourgee emphasizes the obligation, imposed upon the Republican party by the Chicago platform, of making provision for educating illiterate voters. James Freeman Clarke makes a valuable contribution to the discussion of the authorship of Shakespeare's plays. The grave evils that may result from the partisan character of the United States Supreme Court are pointed out by Senator John T. Morgan. The sixth of Mr. Charney's papers on the "Ramus of Central America" is devoted to a description of the Pyramids of Comalcalco, which must rank among the most stupendous monuments ever erected by man. Finally, Walt Whitman writes of "The Poetry of the Future." The Review is sold by booksellers generally.

When a newly elected President steps into power there always comes more or less of a lull to whatever religious denomination he may chance to sympathize with. With Grant in the White House the Methodists hurried over the Metropolitan church until its fame touched every fireside. Hayes, to the delight of all Presbyterians, caused one of their most humble temples to touch the sky with its fame, if not with its steeple, and now comes the chance for the Disciples. A new church is to be built by that denomination, because Garfield's name and sympathy are linked with it, and contributions are to be asked for from every part of the country. It's a great habit that the American people are getting, of rushing to the support of whatever denomination may claim the affections of the Chief Magistrate, building a big church, and having a boom, to die out, or at least drop into a quiet slumber, while some other denomination takes its turn. There is a natural following of worldly policy in this church building and sectarian booming, which is perhaps as wise as a serpent and as harmless as a dove, and if there can only be enough of a variety in the religious sentiments of the several presidents to be chosen during the next century Washington, will be turned into a sort of Jerusalem, where each sect will have its choicest temple; but if one of Bishop Fingersoll's flock should chance to be chosen President, then there would have to be a great church razing in order to satisfy the darling wish of that following.

KELLOGG.

He Sits in His Own Seat—Senator Kellogg's Victory.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Senator Kellogg had intended to have brought up the Kellogg case in the Senate after the business hour, and it was rumored among the Democratic senators that Senator Conkling had avowed his determination in the Republican caucus to resist Kellogg's expulsion, even if it became necessary to filibuster until the 4th of March. A number of the Democrats who were absent were hastily summoned by the mounted pages, but it was half-past 2 before Senator Kellogg moved to postpone all prior orders and take up the Kellogg case. Senator Carpenter promptly antagonized it with the Ben Holladay claim, and Senator Ben Hill, who evidently was not eager for the fray, suggested waiting another day or so until certain documents could be reperited. But Senator Kellogg was inexorable, and insisted on a vote on his motion to lay on the regular order and take up the Kellogg case. To his surprise and apparent disgust, nine Democrats and Senator Davis voted no. So his motion was lost by a vote of 23 yeas against 34 nays. The Democrats who voted nay were Bayard, Butler, Groome, Lamar, Pendleton, Thurman, Voorhees, Williams, and Whyte. This may be regarded as a test vote on the Kellogg case, and it shows that Louisiana will have one Republican vote in the next senate.

FERNANDO WOOD.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Fernando Wood notified the members of the House to-day that he should bring up the funding bill to-morrow, and ask the House to continue in session until it should be passed. The work of the Republicans and speculators is to be resumed. The managers of the impracticable 3 per cent funding scheme found one defect in the bill so far as they have perfected it in the committee of the whole. They have discovered that the Stanford amendment, which proposes to deplete the gold and silver reserve in the treasury by using it to redeem the maturing bonds, is so loosely drawn as to insure its defeat when the bills are reported to the House.

The amendment in question provides that before any bonds or certificates are issued the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay on the bonds maturing this year the silver dollars and all the gold coin over and above $50,000,000 now held in the Treasury for redemption purposes. This would leave no money to meet the appropriations for carrying on the government, the language of the amendment being mandatory, and no exception being made for meeting the necessary expenses of the government.

As the bill now stands the Treasury officials say it will be inoperative, and they are basing all the hopes of a satisfactory measure upon the Senate in case the bill goes through the House in its present shape.

GENERAL GRANT.

A Grand Demonstration in His Honor at Albany.

New York, Jan. 17.—General Grant left for Albany to-day in a special car. He had a hearty reception at Poughkeepsie, where the train stopped for a few minutes.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The reception of General Grant this afternoon was one of the grandest public demonstrations ever witnessed in this city. Fully 70,000 people were in the streets. Nearly all the buildings along the line of march were decorated with flags, and the parade of the military was large and imposing.

THE NEW APPORTIONMENT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The apportionment bill introduced by Representative Cox to-day fixes the number of representatives at 391 and apportions them among the States as follows:

Alabama	7	Mississippi	7
Arkansas	3	Minnesota	3
California	3	Nebraska	3
Colorado	3	Nevada	1

Kentucky	3	Rhode Island	2
Louisiana	3	South Carolina	3
Maine	1	Tennessee	9
Maryland	4	Texas	10
Massachusetts	11	Virginia	10
Michigan	10	West Virginia	4

RECAPTURED.

Wynhoff is charged with assault with intent to kill.

WISCONSIN GRANGERS.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 17.—The annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Grange begins here to-morrow. One hundred and fifty delegates have already arrived. The principal business to be brought before the Grange will be a consideration of all the pending transportation questions of the day. way laws. The receive some attention.

OFFICIAL.

General Walker's Official Report of the United States' Census.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 17.—General Walker sent to the House to-day complete census returns of the whole country. The census of the States show a population of 43,369,395 and of the Territories 783,271, making a grand total of 50,152,666. The House ordered the communication and a number of tabulated statements printed.

A WOMAN'S CRIME.

DETROIT, Jan. 17.—A shocking tragedy was enacted at Lapeer Village, seventy miles north of Detroit, last evening. While people were at church Mrs. Barnard went to the house of the Rev. E. Curtis, the Baptist pastor, attacked his wife, an old lady about 65 years old, threw her down, poured gasoline over her clothing, and set it on fire. The poor woman was so shockingly burned that she lived but a few hours. Mr. Curtis was until last year pastor at Greenville in this State for several years. Mrs. Barnard came to Lapeer a few weeks ago from Greenville, where she lives, being the wife of quite a prominent lumberman, and is a woman about 40 years old. She has been busy meantime attending meetings, and mingling in general society, but giving no intimation of any ill will toward her victim. It is believed by many that she is insane from religious excitement, but others think the case is one of downright wickedness. She is under arrest.

W. E. MILLER, of Bellevue, Ohio, says: I have been troubled with Asthma, and received no relief until I procured your "Only Lung Pad." I can recommend it to any one having the asthma.—See Ad.

ASTRONOMICAL.

MADISON, Jan. 17.—Prof. E. S. Holden, of the Washington naval observatory, arrived in this city this evening. He comes here upon the invitation of ex-Governor C. C. Washburn to look over the Washburn observatory at the State university, and if he is suited with the same and the terms are favorable, he will no doubt accept the directorship.

BAILED.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—John C. Hayward, of Fond du Lac, the medical student who shot James McMahon, a saloon-keeper, thereby causing his death, and who has been sentenced to the penitentiary for life, was yesterday admitted to $8,000 bail by Judge Moran in the criminal court.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE. SATURDAY, JANUARY 24, 1881.
Our circuit and superior court judges are very busy at present in attempting to clear the dockets of miscellaneous cases which have been in court for years.
An imperative necessity exists at present for more promptness in our justice courts. Delays and extensions of time have been the order of the day, but certain pressure from unimpeachable authority will very soon have its effect, and our justice of peace, with certain lawyers well known, will see the necessity of fairness and plain dealing in all their actions.
Mr. George E. Foster, of New Brunswick, delivered a very able temperance lecture in the Fourth Baptist church, on Wednesday evening last. He drew a truthful picture of our open Sunday saloons, and the demoralization resulting therefrom.
Cases of contagious diseases were very numerous last week, more especially small pox and diphtheria. It is thought that the public schools had better be closed for some time. Many children are kept at home by their parents, and the schools in general are considerably thinned out.
Mr. W. M. Melcher paid a $50 fine in court last Wednesday for kissing his wife. He will probably be more discreet in future, and avoid all such unlawful acts.
The North Side railway company started their cars on double quick time on the 10th inst., making a round trip of 6 miles in one hour, including stopping.
Miss Sara Bernhardt is Chicago's great attraction at present. A great curiosity is manifested to see the French actress, of whom so much has been said. On Wednesday evening, she was dressed in a $3,000 suit, and the jewelry worn at that performance was worth $14,000.
Our old friend, Rev. Robert Collier, made Chicago a visit last week. His jovial and genial countenance, shed happiness on all with whom he came in contact. He left for New York Friday, with countless blessings following him.
Several have died in this city lately, and others near the point of death, from eating half-cooked pork.
Over 73,000,000 gallons of water was pumped and distributed to the inhabitants of Chicago, in one day of late. The Chicago Tribune is continually finding fault at the waste of water, from various causes, but not much danger of a short supply and ever be feared, as long as we have Lake Michigan as the source. The only trouble is, that not enough water is used at certain times; and if the Tribune folk use it very sparingly, that is no reason why others should not have all they wish.
How Happiness is Secured.
Happiness is the absence of pain or annoyance, and wherever there is pain there is disease. A pain in the lower portion of the body indicates a disorder of some kind. If there is any color or color deposit in the urine it means disease and requires attention at once. We have heard many of our friends speak of the remarkable power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and are convinced there is nothing so certain and valuable for all disorders of the urinary system both male and female.
